FRA Regulatory Activity Update

Q. What does it mean when a regulatory action is determined to be “significant?”

A. Under Executive Order 12866, OIRA (OMB) is responsible for determining which agency regulatory actions are "significant" and, in turn, subject to interagency review.

- Have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State, local, or tribal governments or communities;
- Create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency;
- Materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs, or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; or
- Raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President's priorities, or the principles set forth in this Executive Order.

The promulgation of the conductor certification regulation highlighted areas in the regulation governing locomotive engineer certification that may require conforming changes.

Non-Significant Rulemakings

13. Safety Glazing Standards; Miscellaneous Revisions (RRR/PRA)

- This rulemaking would propose to eliminate the requirement to stencil the interior wall of a locomotive, passenger car, or caboose which has compliant FRA glazing (section 223.17), update FRA's interpretation of "historical or antiquated equipment[,]" add a definition of the term to the rule text, and generally update the part to remove passed compliance dates.

Non-Significant Rulemakings

14. Revisions to Signal System Reporting Requirements (RRR/PRA)

- This rulemaking would propose the elimination of the requirement to submit a signal system report every 5 years. FRA believes that the information contained in such reports is available to FRA through other sources and the need for a separate and somewhat duplicative report every 5 years is unnecessary.

Non-Significant Rulemakings

15. Horns and Highway-Rail Grade Crossing Revisions

- This rulemaking would make miscellaneous revisions to the existing regulations to address pedestrian crossings and alternatives to train horns in unique situations.

Non-Significant Rulemakings

17. Hours of Service Recordkeeping; Amendments (RRR/PRA)

- This rulemaking would propose to provide simplified recordkeeping requirements to allow Class III and commuter railroads to utilize electronic recordkeeping. It would propose to permit railroads without electronic recordkeeping systems to manage reports of excess service internally without submitting them to the FRA, as currently required. The rule would not require the use of electronic recordkeeping, would be better tailored to small operations, and is expected to decrease the burden hours spent on recordkeeping. .
- Target date for NPRM October 2013
